Accessing full-text articles off-campus via Google Scholar

You can set your browser to have Google Scholar link to full text articles in the PLU Library's databases from any computer you use. If you are using Google Scholar from a campus computer it should automatically recognize you as a PLU user.

To set up Google Scholar for off-campus access:

2. Click on the Settings link in the upper left hand corner drop-down menu.
3. Click on "Library Links" and Search for Pacific Lutheran University
4. Check the box next to all boxes that note Pacific Lutheran University
